

BACKGROUND

The Directorate General Factory Advice Service and Labour Institutes (DGFASLI), Mumbai is an attached office of the Ministry of Labour and Employment, Government of India to serve as a technical arm to assist the Ministry in formulating National Policies on Occupational Safety and Health and to advise the State Governments and Factories on matters concerning Safety, Health, Efficiency and well being of persons at work. It also enforces safety and health statutes in major Ports of the country.

Regional Labour Institute is one of the Subordinate Offices of DGFASLI, Government of India, Ministry of Labour and Employment with the objective of providing technical advice to State Governments and to the Industries in the southern region. This organization is poised to grow further to meet the increased demands of the industries and society. Regional Labour Institute, Chennai has also been declared as a Centre of Excellence for Construction Safety and a Construction Safety Cell has been constituted and functioning at RLI, Chennai.

OBJECTIVES

In a competitive environment any management would like to have more profit and higher productivity not only for their survival but also for their growth. The company executives including the operating personnel want to be assured that their organization is well managed and the losses are controlled and minimized. In order to maintain smooth flow of operation at every stage, management should follow safety procedures to safeguard the equipment and health and safety of their employees. Occupational Safety & Health Management System is an effective tool to achieve the above objectives. Therefore, the Occupational Safety & Health Management System in a company will certainly help the management to reduce the operational risk and the consequent liabilities including property damage and business interruptions.

An Occupational Safety & Health Management System is a comprehensive and integrated system that ensures that all work at the facility is conducted safely. This includes preventing near misses and minor accidents, as well as major accidents.
