TRAINING PROGRAM ON
OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH PRACTICE FOR NURSES, HEALTH / MEDICAL ASSISTANTS
(SEPTEMBER 25 – 29, 2017)

INTRODUCTION

Occupational health care of industrial workers is no longer a matter of welfare, but has been proved to be related to growth, productivity and national prosperity. In our country, a developing nation, occupational health care of working population, therefore, is more significant. To achieve this goal, Factories Act & Rules have been amended and reinforced to provide for regular monitoring and medical surveillance of workers to protect occupational health of workers, prevention of occupational disorders etc. Regular medical examinations, specific tests, record keeping and regular review have become essential. It is, therefore, necessary that “NURSES, HEALTH / MEDICAL ASSISTANTS” – the most important link of health care system, having adequate basic training of health management, disorders and their care etc. – are equipped in terms of knowledge and skills in occupational health practice, so that they provide the needed assistance to the Factory Medical Officers, workers etc.

In view of this, Govt. of India, Ministry of Labour & Employment, DGFASLI has decided to organize specially designed “Training Workshop on Occupational Health Practice for Nurses, Health/Medical Assistants etc.” to equip them with needed specific knowledge and skill for their effective contribution in medical surveillance programs of industrial workers.

OBJECTIVES AND METHODS

The training program aims at equipping the participants through class-room lectures by faculties drawn from the institute, eminent guest faculties, practical training on conducting various special tests such as audiometry, lung function test, E.C.G., vision testing etc. It is expected that on completion of the training, the participant will be able to provide needed support to the medical surveillance system of the organization.
